The last of this series of Illustrated Temperance Sermons at the Baptist Church will be preached by the pastor Sunday night, 22d inst.

The annual meeting of the North New Jersey Baptist Association was held last week at Echo Lake. The First Baptist Church of Bloomfield is connected with the Association. Delegates from this church speak of the late meeting as very interesting. Its Pastor was chosen Moderator for the present year.

Rev. J. Milton Greene, Missionary in Mexico, is expected to speak at the quarterly meeting of the Women's Foreign Missionary Society, of the First Presbyterian Church, on Monday, June 23, at 4 p. m.

Mr. Greene has been at home on a short visit and is now about to return to his field. Mexico has been one of the most fruitful of missionary fields during the last ten years, and the accounts which Mr. Greene gives are of thrilling interest.

A cordial invitation is extended to all ladies interested in missionary work.

Street Lamps.

On Tuesday evening of this week I had occasion to pass down Glenwood avenue from the depot to Linden avenue at five minutes before nine. On reaching Linden avenue the lamp-lighter passed, and after that time lighted the five lamps between those two points. On the following evening I passed the same place at a quarter to eleven, and the same lamps had been extinguished for the night. This matter should be looked into by the authorities having it in charge.

This part of Glenwood avenue is very lonesome, and, as boys congregate on the stone bridge, it is very unpleasant for ladies to pass in the darkness.

The Uses of Alcohol.

DEAR SIR: Having seen a number of anonymous letters, all of which exhibit a strong prejudice against alcohol, I ask permission to call their attention to the many valuable uses this compound is applied to in the arts and sciences.

It has proved itself a very important article in the laboratories of analytical and manufacturing chemists; also metallurgists who have to analyze ores in regions where gas is unknown. It has also the reputation of being one of the most valuable anesthetics known to modern pharmacy, and its other medicinal properties are too numerous to refer to. Alcohol should not be treated as if the evil one distilled it, as it is a product of nature, as, according to theory he had nothing to do with those arrangements. Rather try and prevent its use or abuse as a beverage, and endeavor to appreciate the benefits it bestows on humanity.

Republican State Committee.

The Republican State Committee held its initial meeting for the campaign Wednesday afternoon, with a full attendance of members. Reports were received from every county in the State, showing the utmost satisfaction with the Chicago nominations. In the First and Second Districts the enthusiasm is said to be much greater than four years ago. In the Fourth District, ex-Senator Potts, who has "taken off his coat for the fight," said the conditions were exceptionally favorable. In the Fifth, Senator Hobart, Col. Grosvenor, and ex-Mayor Miller, of Morristown, agreed in declaring the signs to be most auspicious. In the Seventh, Cpl. Toffey said the prospects were favorable "all along the line." In all the districts Democratic recruits were reported.

The Committee decided to open its headquarters on the 10th of July, at Taylor's Hotel, Jersey City, where rooms 7, 8 and 9 have been secured, giving ample accommodations. The Secretary, John Y. Foster, will have charge with an assistant, and the canvass will be pushed from the start. Arrangements are making for a number of speakers of national reputation who will give a fortnight or more each to the campaign in this State, and with the help of home talent it is intended to reach every town and village by such a series of meetings as has never yet been held here. The Executive Committee in immediate charge of the canvass consists of Hon. Garret A. Hobart, Hon. F. A. Potts, Hon. Wm. Walter Phelps, Charles A. Butts, R. J. Anderson, Seth B. Ryder, John D. Harrison, John Y. Foster, Wm. T. Hoffman and John J. Toffey. It is desired that all local organizations will send a list of their officers to the Secretary, at Newark, before July 10th.

We learn that the State Convention for the nomination of Presidential electors will probably be held during the first week in August. The names of Hon. Frederic A. Potts and Hon. John Taylor are quite generally mentioned for electors at large.

The Electoral Vote.

The Democratic managers, as the campaign progresses, will find it a good deal easier to carry the country on paper than by tabulating their strength from the solid figures of the Electoral College. According to the most hopeful estimates which they have already made, they classify the States, reasonably sure for each party, as follows:

REPUBLICAN.	DEMOCRATIC.
California..... 8	Alabama..... 10
Colorado..... 3	Arkansas..... 7
Illinois..... 22	Delaware..... 4
Indiana..... 15	Georgia..... 12
Iowa..... 13	Kentucky..... 13
Kansas..... 9	Louisiana..... 8
Maine..... 6	Maryland..... 8
Massachusetts..... 14	Mississippi..... 9
Michigan..... 13	Missouri..... 16
Minnesota..... 7	New Jersey..... 9
Nebraska..... 5	South Carolina..... 9
Nevada..... 3	Tennessee..... 12
New Hampshire..... 4	Texas..... 13
Ohio..... 23
Oregon..... 3
Pennsylvania..... 30
Rhode Island..... 4
Vermont..... 4
Wisconsin..... 11
Total..... 197	129

This leaves the following named States in the list as doubtful:

Connecticut..... 6	Virginia..... 12
Florida..... 4	West Virginia..... 6
New York..... 36
North Carolina..... 11	Total..... 75

There are 401 votes in the electoral college, making 201 necessary to elect a President. The Democratic candidate must get all of the so-called doubtful States, enumerated above, in order to secure an election. This is from the Democratic standpoint entirely. Connecticut has gone Republican in every Presidential contest since the Republic was organized with one exception, and that was in 1876 when New York influences told heavily in favor of the Democrats, and when a Democratic State administration had restored certificate voting and encouraged frauds upon the ballot box. With Connecticut the Republicans will have two votes to spare on the estimate of the Republican strength in other States tabulated above. That tabulation is likely to prove correct as far as it goes. The Democratic claim in some quarters that Massachusetts will be lost to the Republicans has very little to support it. If that State should be lost and the others named carried, the Republicans will have to draw on the doubtful States eighteen votes, and leaving New York out for the present, it would be necessary to carry Connecticut and North Carolina (with seventeen votes, or one short of a majority of the college), and one other State. Counting Massachusetts in and Connecticut out, North Carolina alone would raise the Republican electoral vote to 201, just enough to elect.

A few days ago a man in Boston was fined one dollar for "maliciously injuring a lamp post." If he was intoxicated at the time he richly merited the punishment, as the deed was one of unusual atrocity. A drunken man ought to realize that the lamp post is his best friend. —Lovell Citizen.

W. G. T. P.

The devotional meeting of the W. G. T. U. was held as usual on Tuesday afternoon. Many others would be welcome could they find it in their hearts to come. The work is great before us, but we trust in the living God, and are holding on by faith and prayer. The Temperance women are never discouraged, neither are they weary in well doing.

The Temperance School.

We cordially invite any and everyone who feels any interest in this school to visit it and enjoy the pleasing sight. It is surprising to find so many children anxious to attend during the warm season. Many are earnestly striving to gain the rewards which have been promised in September to those who have been punctual attendants and also to those who bring in new scholars.

We want to be clearly understood that none are required to sign the pledge; they are encouraged to do so if their parents are willing; not otherwise.

The Devil's Trap.

There is a little plant that grows in the South called Venus's Fly Trap. Its leaves are oblong, double, and hollow, and are made to open and shut as your two hands will if laid together. They are smaller than your hands, however, being hardly an inch across, and perhaps are more like two upper eyelids placed together or like very small clam-shells. On the inside of these leaves is a sweet, sticky juice which attracts the flies and insects. There are several fine strings, like hairs, that cross the leaf, so that a fly can hardly step across without touching one of these threads or springs, and the moment one of them is touched the two sides of the leaf suddenly snap together, and the little creature is a prisoner.

And what becomes of him then? Alas! he never comes out. This juice is a solvent, like the gastric juice in our stomachs, and very soon consumes or dissolves the insect, so that some people think this is the way the plant is nourished. If we should take raw meat and cut it very fine, and drop it in the leaf, it will act in the same way and the meat will be consumed.

Now, what a fit emblem is this plant of Satan and his way of attracting and destroying souls! He makes this pleasure so sweet, and that amusement so nice and innocent. The drink tastes so good, he says to us, and won't hurt us a bit. If you learn to smoke you will be manly, and if you'll just learn to play cards—well, you'll make lots of money.

But alas! Mas! for the poor creature that gets into his trap; it is almost certain death. No human power can undo these hands of the devil. There is but one who can. How glad we are to see one! For the little fly caught in this curious leaf there is no help; but for a soul caught in the grasp of Satan there is one hope, one way of deliverance. The strong hand of the Lord Jesus Christ can unloose the hands of the devil and set the captive free. The Bible says: "For this the Son of God was manifested, that He might destroy the works of the devil."

But ought we not to be very careful how we get caught in this trap? Yes; and this is the reason, why we warn you against the great enemy of souls and the snares he lays for you, especially this trap of strong drink. When he says to you of the ruby wine, the sparkling champagne, the foaming beer, the ruddy cider, "These are not hurtful drinks; they are good, and will do you good," don't believe him. He is telling you lies, just as he did to Eve in the Garden of Eden when he persuaded her to eat the forbidden fruit, and said: "Thou shalt not surely die." As surely as you listen to him you put yourself into his hands, and before you think, they will shut together and hold you fast. Don't think you can slip just a little of his innocent drink; you must keep clear of him altogether; touch not, taste not.

A good many years ago Dr. Jonas King, who was a missionary at Athens, in Greece, drew up a temperance pledge for the people there to sign. A good many put their names to it, but one man asked if he couldn't have the privilege of taking a little, just a drop now and then. What do you think Dr. King said? "No," said he, "you must keep your feet wholly out of the devil's trap." He must have known about this trap we have been talking about.

Yes, we must keep both feet, both hands, both eyes, every part of us, out of the devil's power; not go near him, and then he cannot catch us.

The liquor stores are traps. A drinking man said once: "If the good folks want to keep us poor folks sober, they must shut up the traps that catch us." That is what we must try to do. We must keep on praying and working until these places of temptation are all closed, and then the poor men and women who love the drink will not be able to get it, and there will be more hope of saving them. —Youth's Temperance Banner.

An Unexplored Table Land.

According to Mr. Im Thurn, whose travels in British Guiana have recently been published, there is in the far west of that country, or over the Brazilian boundary, where the savanna itself rises 5,000 feet above the sea, a flat table land, the edges of which are more or less perpendicular cliffs 2,000 feet high. No traveler has ever been round it, so that it may be accessible from the other side, and there is a way, as yet untried, which Mr. Im Thurn believes may prove practicable. The summit of this plateau of Koraima seems to be forest-covered, and enough is known of the fauna and flora of the district to make it certain that a naturalist would find himself well rewarded for the ascent. There are traditions of strange isolated tribes that live in this inaccessible region. —Exchange.

A white squall caught a party of tourists moving across a lake in Scotland and threatened to capsize the boat. When it seemed that the crisis was really come the largest and physically the strongest in the party, in a state of intense fear, said: "Let us pray!" "No, no, my man," shouted the bluff old boatman; "let the little man pray—you take the oar."

The Press
 THE FOREMOST REPUBLICAN NEWSPAPER

FOR THE PRESIDENTIAL YEAR, 1884.
 Weekly Press, - - - $1.00 a Year.
 Daily Press, - - - $6.00 a Year.

The coming year will be notable. Congress, divided between a Republican Senate and a Democratic House, will be busy President-making. The great battle of Protection against Free Trade will agitate the Capital and the country. The Presidential campaign will be the hardest fought and most exciting political struggle for a quarter of a century. Europe, in the opinion of the best informed, trembles on the eve of a great war.

With such an outlook a live newspaper which presents all the news and tells the whole truth about it is more than ever a necessity. Such a newspaper is THE PHILADELPHIA PRESS. Telegraph wires in its own office place it in instantaneous communication with a corps of over five hundred news-gatherers distributed all over the civilized world. The special daily cable service which it shares with the New York Herald covers every phase of activity in European life. No paper excels it in all the elements which go to make up a broad, full, complete journal.

Besides being a complete newspaper, THE WEEKLY PRESS has several special features which put it at the top. The AGRICULTURAL DEPARTMENT, enriched by constant contributions from the foremost writers in various branches, gives the practical things that people want to know on the farm and in the garden. The HELPING HAND FOR WOMEN or Home Department, by Mrs. Kate Upson Clark, is full of information, hints and happy thoughts for every wife, mother and head of a household.

A great feature of the coming year will be the highly valuable letters of Joseph D. Weyland, editor of this subject for the Census of 1880, has made it a life study, and has been abroad this year conducting a special investigation. His letters will give the facts as to earnings in all the various industries, the purchasing power of wages, strikes, trades-unionism, arbitration, etc.

The WEEKLY PRESS is a first-class home reading, with puzzles and other matter for the little folks, stories and pastimes for adults and children, fashion notes, recipes, gleanings from current literature, a careful summary of domestic and foreign news, and an earnest discussion of the great questions of the day.
